Superior School of Commerce Nicolae Kretzulescu

- “No doubt that our country could make good use of such a concept. One of C2C best parts is that it can be applied in almost any system of a modern society: urban environment, manufacturing, building industry, social system.”
(Radu Rusanu)
- “The most impressive part of the movie was the chair that can be disassembled in many parts. You can take it with you everywhere!”
(Andreea Rapea)
- “I would definitely like the new book because it can’t get wet when it’s raining outside, it won’t wear out easily and nobody could tear it off.”
(Diana Terevlej)

- “After watching both C2C documentaries I’m going to share them with other people and together we could start to explore the first 5 steps to C2C:
 - 1. Remaking the way we make things;
 - 2. Get free of known culprits;
 - 3. Follow informed personal preferences;
 - 4. Create “passive positive ” lists of safety materials and activate them;
 - 5. Reinvent the design of the former system.”

(Alexandru Rugina)
- “I was impressed by the human creativity in recycling everything in order to improve our environment. I was also impressed by the fast implementation of C2C in other countries all over the world.”

(Bianca Gheorghe)
- “Even if there were many products presented in the movie (a chair, a car, Nike shoes etc.) the book impressed me the most, and I’ll be extremely happy to buy one in our bookshops.”

(Laura Paraschiv)

- “To implement the C2C concept young people should be informed about it.They represent the future and are able to strive for it.”
(Lavinia Sica)
- “To have C2C and its principles implemented in our country I would try to obtain the approval for post-highschool courses.”
(Luciana Ilie)
- “The Romanian corporations should develop a project to see if our people are able to recycle that much and to turn each waste into something useful”
(Andreea Bertea)
- “The most astonishing part of the movie was the plastic book. An innovative idea to protect a book and save the world! I consider this idea very effective and practical.”
(Ana-Maria Dinica)
- “As I live in one of the most polluted cities, I consider the car produced by Ford to be of great interest for the Romanian market.”
(Andrei Ghenov)
- “I think the book and the Nike shoes would be perfect for us.”
(Ana-Maria Palanici)
